

Foundation Banking Studies
Training programme and exams for the European Foundation Certificate in Banking
-EFCB-

Summary contents

Part A

The monetary and financial environment

1. Introduction to the economic environment

- o Introduction to microeconomics
- o Introduction to macroeconomics

2. Notion, functions and enterprises of the monetary and financial system

- o The notion of the monetary and financial system
- o Functions of the monetary and financial system
- o Financial system firms and services

3. Regulatory intervention in credit institutions

- o Risks to which credit institutions are exposed and their management
- o Grounds for regulatory intervention
- o Administrative organisation of regulatory intervention

Part B

Products and customers

1. The bank as an enterprise

- o The peculiarities of banking enterprises
- o The bank balance sheet
- o Structure of results
- o The International Financial Reporting Standards
- o Banking risks
- o Bank management

2. Customers, distribution and competition

- o Classification of bank customers
- o Provision of banking services – Network cost and profitability
- o Competition

3. Retail customers

- o Retail banking and the modern banking environment
- o Retail customer differentiation criteria
- o Distinctive features of retail banking
- o Mortgage credit
- o Consumer credit
- o Deposit and investment products
- o Payment services
- o Other services
- o Measures ensuring the safety and soundness of banking operations
- o Institutional Framework and consumer protection agencies

4. Business customers

- o Customer classification criteria
- o Servicing business customers
- o Identifying the needs
- o Forms of financing
- o Sureties
- o Application processing: basic principles
- o 'After-sale' services for business customers

5. Institutional customers

- o Institutional customers
- o The financial needs of institutional customers

Part C

Ethics, management and marketing in the banking sector

1. Ethics in banking transactions

- o The concept of professional ethics
- o Reasons for the development of ethics in banking transactions
- o Codes of ethics as a principal instrument of ethics in banking transactions
- o Structure and content of codes of ethics in the banking sector

2. Bank management

- o Planning
- o Organisation
- o Staffing
- o Communication
- o Motivation
- o Leadership
- o Group dynamics of working teams
- o Control

3. Bank marketing

- o The application of the principles of marketing in the banking sector
- o Consumer behaviour and conditions for customer loyalty in banking
- o The product in banking
- o The distribution network of banking products and services
- o Pricing policy
- o The promotion and communication mix in banks
- o The three extra instruments of the services marketing mix in banks
- o Strategic planning and marketing planning